June, 2020

Greetings from the Waldorf Early Childhood Association of North America!

This Membership Handbook is a guide to our work together in association as Waldorf early childhood member programs throughout North America. The Handbook describes the history, goals, and activities of our Association, our Shared Principles, and our Membership Path.

Our WECAN Shared Principles are the expression of our ideals and practices. They are ideals Associate Members are working to realize as they grow toward Full WECAN Membership. For Full Members the Shared Principles are an expression of practices that allow them to be seen as representatives of Waldorf early childhood education in North America and around the world.

Our WECAN Membership Path is intended to foster a culture of self-study, peer review, and collaboration that will strengthen and deepen our work on behalf of the young child here in North America out of the insights of Waldorf education. This Handbook outlines the criteria and benefits of membership, and the steps required to fulfill the responsibilities of organizational membership for our Associate and Full Member programs. WECAN Associate and Full Members have expressed their appreciation for the process of self-study and site visit.

Our members — both school-based and home-based — are listed in our WECAN Directory, available on our website at www.waldorfearlychildhood.org and in the joint AWSNA/WECAN online and print directories.

The Membership Handbook and all relevant application forms and materials are also available on the WECAN website. Please contact your Regional Representative(s), listed in the Handbook and on our website, or our Membership Coordinator, Laura Mason, at membership@waldorfearlychildhood.org, if you have questions, concerns, or suggestions. We look forward to our work together in association!

With best wishes,

Susan Howard

Introduction: The Waldorf Early Childhood Association of North America

The Waldorf Early Childhood Association of North America (WECAN) was founded in 1983, originally under the name of the Waldorf Kindergarten Association of North America. Its administrative office is in Spring Valley, New York.

WECAN's mission is to foster a new cultural impulse for the work with the young child from pre-birth to age seven. Based on an anthroposophical understanding of human development, WECAN is committed to protecting and nurturing childhood as a foundation for renewing human culture.

WECAN accomplishes this mission in a number of ways, including but not limited to the following:

- Encouraging, supporting, and offering resources to professionals working with young children based on the educational philosophy of Rudolf Steiner, through conferences, lectures, seminars, publications, and other means;
- Supporting the development of Waldorf early childhood centers, birth to three programs, kindergartens, pre-schools, home programs, and training centers through a path to membership involving self-study and peer review;
- Providing forums for the exchange of information and experience among those drawing their inspiration from the work of Rudolf Steiner in their work with young children through newsletters, regional gatherings, and other forms of communication;
- Interacting with other educational organizations representing a wide spectrum of ideas about early childhood education;
- Encouraging and supporting research regarding Waldorf early childhood education and the development of the young child, and publishing the results of such research;
- Working together with other organizations that share similar goals and ideals, such as the Association of Waldorf Schools of North America (AWSNA), the International Association for Steiner/Waldorf Early Childhood Education (IASWECE) and the Pedagogical Section of the School of Spiritual Science.

Membership in WECAN is open to individuals who support the work of the Waldorf Early Childhood Association, and to early childhood programs, kindergartens, child care centers, teacher training centers, and related programs committed to the ideals and practices of Waldorf early childhood education and anthroposophy, the philosophy developed by Rudolf Steiner (1861-1925), and who wish to support and contribute to Waldorf early childhood education in North America. In 2019-20, WECAN membership included 602 individual members and 211 organizational members and affiliates—schools, home programs, and teacher education institutes—throughout North America.

Our activities on behalf of our members include:

- Publication of a newsletter, Gateways, for Waldorf early childhood educators, which appears twice each year;
- Electronic e-News Updates sent out several times a year, with news, upcoming events, announcements, and links to press articles and research of interest to Waldorf early childhood educators;
- Publication and distribution of study materials for early childhood educators and parents through WECAN Books;

- Collaborative research, publication, and workshops on the needs of the child from birth to three, and on the older child in the kindergarten and the transition to first grade;
- Professional development retreats for early childhood teacher trainers;
- Development and publication of guidelines on mentoring and early childhood teacher review;
- Annual regional conferences and workshops for Waldorf early childhood educators, including a major conference in Spring Valley, NY, each February;
- International conferences for Waldorf early childhood educators here in North America and around the world;
- Collaborating with the Association for Waldorf Schools of North America (AWSNA) and participation on its Leadership Council;
- Active membership in the International Association for Steiner/Waldorf Early Childhood Education (IASWECE), with two representatives on its Council, who share news and events from Waldorf early childhood education worldwide with our members;
- Developing on-line resources for member organizations;
- Fundraising for the development of early childhood projects throughout the world.

The Waldorf Early Childhood Association of North America is a tax-exempt not-for-profit organization.

WECAN Shared Principles

The WECAN Shared Principles form the basis of our understanding of our work together in association, and are used in our membership application and self-study processes. As a living document, the Shared Principles will continue to be refined through the work of the Board, Regional Representatives, and Full Member schools and programs.

A. Purpose, Goals, and Educational Philosophy

- A1 In our work with children from pre-birth to age seven (in nursery-kindergartens, home care programs, child care centers, parent-child programs, etc.) we are committed to the ideals and practices of Waldorf/Steiner early childhood education.
- A2 This education, developed by Rudolf Steiner and based on an anthroposophical understanding of the human individuality as a being of body, soul, and spirit, offers protection and respect for the dignity of childhood.
- A3 The future development of each individual child and of humanity as a whole depends on health-giving experiences in the first seven years of life. An atmosphere of loving warmth and guidance that promotes joy, wonder, and reverence supports such healthy development.
- A4 We recognize that free creative play, imitation, exploration of the social and natural world, practical and meaningful work, artistic activities, and nourishing sensory experiences are essential in the development of the young child. Through our programs and activities, we offer children a rhythmic experience of each day, week, and season of the year.
- A5 Our activities are based on the insights of Rudolf Steiner, and on the continuing research of Waldorf/Steiner educators and other compatible pedagogical approaches.
- A6 We strive for diversity in the racial, cultural, religious, and socio-economic backgrounds of children coming to our schools. We strive to meet the unique developmental needs, capacities, and cultural background of each child.
- A7 We recognize that healthy child development takes place best in the context of a community based upon healthy social relationships among parents, teachers, and children, and we strive to create such conscious, collaborative communities around our care for children.

B. Teacher Preparation and Professional Development

- B1 Our faculty and staff are qualified for their positions and responsibilities by education and/or experience. Teachers have a formal preparation, or the equivalent, for Waldorf/Steiner early childhood teaching, or are engaged in such preparation, as well as meeting state or provincial licensing requirements. [See “Waldorf Early Childhood Teacher Education: WECAN Expectations” in the following section.]
- B2 Our faculty and staff are committed to ongoing self- and professional development as demonstrated by participation in conferences, courses, professional development workshops, etc.
- B3 We support teacher development through regular mentoring, peer partnerships, review and evaluation.

- B4 We recognize that developing artistic and practical abilities and capacities for observation and perception contributes to our ability to meet the needs of the children in our care. Our faculty and staff are actively engaged in deepening our understanding of Waldorf/Steiner indications for early childhood through collegial work, individual study, artistic activity, and meditative practice.
- B5 Our faculty and staff demonstrate professionalism and respect in their interactions with children, parents, colleagues, and other professionals.

C. Governance, Finances and Administration

- C1 Our program recognizes and complies with applicable legal and licensing requirements and meets health, fire, and safety standards.
- C2 Our program is typically not-for-profit, as an expression of the free cultural life, and is not based on self-interest or personal gain.

(Note: The form most suited for such activity is usually that of an incorporated, not-for-profit organization. There may be exceptions to this in certain situations such as home programs, and this WECAN membership criterion may be waived through a decision of the WECAN Board or board-designated committee.)

- C3 We have clearly-stated processes for making administrative decisions, future planning, and review and development of programs, administrative, and financial policies.
- C4 Our program has clearly-defined employment, evaluation, and review procedures for faculty and staff, including agreed-upon compensation, terms of employment, and principal duties and responsibilities. Procedures for non-renewal or termination of employment are clearly delineated.
- C5 Our program complies with all applicable laws regarding discrimination based on any and all protected categories, in all areas, including admissions, employment, and personnel.
- C6 We have demonstrated our ability to generate sufficient resources to maintain our educational programs and facilities, and to support our faculty and staff. We strive to cultivate socially responsible practices in the setting of tuitions, tuition assistance, and salaries and benefits.
- C7 Our organization engages in regular self-study/peer review process on an organizational, institutional basis, as well as with individual teachers.
- C8 In our administrative and financial practices, we work collaboratively rather than hierarchically, in an effort to be socially responsible in our work with colleagues, parents, the institution, and the wider community.

D. Relations with the Wider Movement

- D1 We recognize ourselves as colleagues in a world movement on behalf of the young child. As such we are committed to collaborating with our colleagues on local, regional, North American, and international levels as a fully-established, healthy representative of Waldorf/Steiner early childhood education.

The Training of Waldorf Early Childhood Educators: WECAN Expectations

For Educators Working with Children Ages Birth to Three

Lead Educators and Caregivers

For early childhood educators responsible for the care and education of the child from birth to three, completion of a Waldorf birth to three teacher education program recognized by WECAN is expected.

This is the expectation for lead early childhood educators working with children from birth to three, including childcare providers in center or home-based care, childcare supervisors/directors and educators who facilitate parent-child classes or classes for expectant parents.

Recognized Waldorf early childhood birth to three teacher education programs offer a minimum of 300 class contact hours, plus mentored teaching and extensive practicum or internship experiences. This coursework can be in a WECAN recognized birth to three training program or can be part of a birth to seven training if it contains sufficient birth to three coursework. The Shared Principles for Early Childhood Teacher Education (found on the WECAN website in the WECAN Teacher Education Membership Handbook) describe the course content, fieldwork component and curriculum guidelines for recognized Waldorf early childhood teacher education programs. (Please also see the WECAN Curriculum and Course Content Areas in Appendix I.)

Assistants and Support Caregivers

For beginning caregivers working with a trained lead educator in any of the above-listed classes or programs, introductory coursework of at least one week (or its equivalent) and two weeks of observation in Waldorf birth to three early childhood education is expected. This would be followed by a minimum of one year of mentoring in their place of employment. For those who intend to continue in this position, further coursework and a full WECAN-recognized birth to three training is expected.

Ongoing yearly participation for at least one week in early childhood mentoring, evaluation, conferences, deepening courses, and workshops is an essential part of the continuing professional development for both lead and assistant Waldorf birth to three educators.

Note: Early childhood educators already trained in birth to seven who take responsibility for a Waldorf program serving children from birth to three are expected to complete a WECAN recognized birth to three training or its equivalent.

Early childhood educators who have completed a birth to three training who take responsibility for a program serving children from three to seven are expected to complete a WECAN recognized birth to seven training or its equivalent.

For Educators Working with Children Ages Three to Seven

Lead Educators and Caregivers

For early childhood educators who carry responsibility for the care and education of the child from three to school entrance, completion of a Waldorf birth to seven early childhood teacher education program recognized by WECAN is expected.

This is the expectation for lead early childhood educators working with children from three to seven, including nursery, pre-school and kindergarten teachers and lead extended care providers in Waldorf schools, home programs and other early childhood settings.

Recognized Waldorf birth to seven early childhood teacher education programs offer a minimum of 450 class contact hours*, plus mentored teaching or extensive practicum or internship experiences. The Shared Principles for Early Childhood Teacher Education (found on the WECAN website in the WECAN Teacher Education Membership Handbook) describe the course content, fieldwork component and curriculum guidelines for recognized Waldorf early childhood teacher education programs. (Please also see the WECAN Curriculum and Course Content Areas in Appendix I.)

Assistants and Support Caregivers

For assistant teachers, in the above programs, introductory coursework of at least one week (or its equivalent) in Waldorf birth to seven early childhood education is expected. For those who intend to continue in this position, further coursework is expected, and a full WECAN-recognized birth to seven training is recommended.

Ongoing yearly participation for at least one week in early childhood mentoring, evaluation, conferences, deepening courses, and workshops is an essential part of the continuing professional development for both lead and assistant Waldorf early childhood educators.

This expectation is consistent with the guidelines of the International Association for Steiner/Waldorf Early Childhood Education (see www.iaswece.org).

Note: Early childhood educators already trained in birth to seven who take responsibility for a Waldorf program serving children from birth to three are expected to complete a WECAN recognized birth to three training or its equivalent.

Early childhood educators who have completed a birth to three training who take responsibility for a program serving children from three to seven are expected to complete a WECAN recognized birth to seven training or its equivalent.

For WECAN Member Schools and Early Childhood Programs

The Full Member program is expected to demonstrate a commitment to hire lead early childhood educators and caregivers (for nursery, kindergarten and pre-school positions, for childcare providers in center or home-based care, childcare supervisors/directors, and educators who facilitate parent-child classes or classes for expectant parents) who have completed or are currently enrolled in a WECAN-recognized Waldorf early childhood teacher education program.

If a Full Member program is unable to hire a trained early childhood educator/caregiver for a lead position and hires someone without training, or if an assistant moves into a lead position, the program is expected to strongly encourage the educator/caregiver to enroll in a part-time training course and provide some financial support if possible. (For educators/caregivers at member programs there may be AWSNA teacher training loan funds available for support as well).

The Full Member program is expected to demonstrate a commitment to mentoring and evaluation of the early childhood faculty, as well as supporting other professional development opportunities.

The Associate Member program is expected to demonstrate that they are working toward meeting the above expectations.

Demonstrating a Commitment to WECAN Expectations

During its WECAN membership process, the program is asked to provide information about the level of training of each of its early childhood faculty members. The program should describe the training plans for lead educators/caregivers who have not yet completed a training course, and should also describe policies and plans for ongoing teacher education for all early childhood faculty, or demonstrate equivalency for non-recognized trainings.

If during the membership process it becomes apparent that a program is not demonstrating a commitment to the WECAN Shared Principles and WECAN Expectations regarding the training of teachers, then the WECAN site visitor will engage with the program around this question, to support the program in actively taking steps to work toward the training and ongoing professional development of its early childhood teachers. The WECAN Membership Committee may also, in some situations, make a recommendation to the school to encourage further work with the Expectations.

Curriculum and Course Content Areas included in WECAN-recognized Waldorf early childhood teacher education programs can be found in Appendix I of the WECAN Membership Handbook. A list of WECAN-recognized Waldorf early childhood teacher education programs can be found in Appendix II of the WECAN Membership Handbook and on the WECAN website.

We encourage you to contact us if you have any questions about the situation in your school. You can contact Laura Mason, Membership Coordinator, at membership@waldorfearlychildhood.org, or Ruth Ker, Teacher Education Coordinator, at teachered@waldorfearlychildhood.org.

WECAN Affiliation and Membership Categories

The following section describes the WECAN Path to Membership for individuals and organizations as well as Registered Initiative Affiliation for programs in Mexico, Puerto Rico and on tribal lands.

Individual Membership

WECAN began as an individual membership organization – a grass-roots association of Waldorf early childhood colleagues – and individual memberships actually exceed the number of organizational memberships. We see this as a sign of healthy collegueship within our movement and encourage individuals to continue to join WECAN in order to receive their own membership services, including the twice-yearly Gateways newsletter, and to support the work of the Association.

Criteria: Interest in and support for Waldorf early childhood education

Benefits:

- Subscription to Gateways newsletter
- 10% discount on WECAN Books
- WECAN e-News Updates and other informational mailings
- Discounted registration fees for WECAN conferences
- Opportunity to subscribe to the WECAN Community Hub and a WECAN list to receive research and articles of interest.

Responsibilities: Annual membership dues. The membership year is October 1 – September 30.

Dues: $50/year; $40/year for students enrolled in a WECAN-member teacher education program; 20% group discount ($40 instead of $50) for those affiliated with an Associate or Full organizational member of WECAN. See details and download application forms on the WECAN website,

Organizational Membership

The WECAN path to organizational membership is intended for schools and programs working on behalf of the young child out of the insights of Waldorf education. WECAN invites and encourages all early childhood programs identifying themselves as inspired by the ideals of Waldorf early childhood education and working with the WECAN Shared Principles to apply for WECAN membership. WECAN organizational membership is not open to programs that identify with a different or additional set of principles and practices.

The membership information below applies to home-based as well as school-based or freestanding early childhood programs. The WECAN organizational path to membership leads from Associate Member status to Full Membership. New/first-time applicants to WECAN should apply for Associate Membership. Current Associate Members may apply for Full Membership when they feel they meet the criteria. Early childhood programs in schools are expected to become WECAN Associate Members before the school applies for AWSNA Associate Membership, and to become WECAN Full Members before applying for Full Membership in AWSNA. Please also note that “Associate Member” is a new name for the former Developing Member category. The name alone has changed; all criteria, benefits and responsibilities remain the same.

Some WECAN Members are schools with grades programs that have joined or plan to join the Association of Waldorf Schools of North America as members. The membership processes for the two organizations are closely linked.

AWSNA Requirements for Schools with Early Childhood Programs:

AWSNA Member schools with early childhood programs are expected to maintain an equivalent or higher membership status in WECAN than their AWSNA membership. Schools applying for AWSNA membership are expected to be Associate or Full Members of WECAN. School on the path to AWSNA Full Membership are expected to attain WECAN Full Membership before applying for Full Membership in AWSNA.

AWSNA Support Visits and WECAN Membership Renewal:

AWSNA Associate Member schools receive AWSNA support visits. The honorarium for the visiting team is paid for through AWSNA dues. The school is responsible for travel expenses, and accommodations and meals if needed. This AWSNA visit may be used to fulfill the requirement for a WECAN Associate Member or Full Member renewal site visit (every three years and every five years, respectively) under the following conditions (please note that application for WECAN Full Membership requires a separate WECAN site visit):

1. An early childhood educator must be part of the AWSNA support team, so that the visit can fulfill both the AWSNA support and WECAN site visit functions.
2. Prior to the visit, the early childhood member of the team must receive from the early childhood program a copy of the completed WECAN Self-Study Update and copies of the previous Self-Study and Site Visit Report, as well as the WECAN Orientation for Site Visitors and the Site Visit Report Form, available on the WECAN website.
3. The early childhood visitor must complete a WECAN Site Visit Report, including commendations and recommendations, and return it to the school within 30 days of the visit.
4. The school or program must then forward the report to the WECAN Regional Representative(s) in fulfillment of the WECAN site visit requirement. The site visitor also forwards the report to the AWSNA regional LC representative, who then pays the appropriate share of the honorarium.

If an early childhood educator cannot be on the AWSNA support team, the school or program will need to arrange a separate WECAN site visit and will be responsible for the costs of honorarium and travel for the WECAN site visitor (for details see “Site Visit Guidelines” on the website or contact the WECAN Membership Coordinator). The Regional Representative(s) can suggest early childhood educators who might be available to do a site visit.

AWSNA Accreditation and WECAN Membership Renewal:

Full Member WECAN schools are eligible to align the WECAN renewal process with the AWSNA accreditation process, putting both membership processes on the same renewal schedule. Schools preparing a Self-Study for AWSNA accreditation will submit an Abbreviated WECAN Self-Study to WECAN. A separate WECAN site visit is also required to complete the renewal.

Complete instructions for aligning WECAN Full Membership renewal with AWSNA accreditation are available on the WECAN website, and from the WECAN Membership Coordinator.

Registered Initiative Affiliation

WECAN Registered Initiative status is available to schools and early childhood programs in Mexico, Puerto Rico and on tribal lands. It provides schools and programs that have unique obstacles to membership the option of affiliating with WECAN and thus connecting with the wider Waldorf early childhood movement in North America and around the globe. Registered Initiative status is intended for schools and programs working on behalf of the young child out of the insights of Waldorf education. WECAN invites early childhood programs in Mexico, Puerto Rico and on tribal lands, identifying themselves as inspired by the ideals of Waldorf early childhood education to apply for Registered Initiative status.

The information below applies to home-based as well as school-based or freestanding early childhood programs. Schools with early childhood programs that apply for Registered Initiative status with AWSNA are automatically considered for WECAN Registered Initiative status as well. Registered Initiatives are expected to work toward WECAN membership as soon as they are able.

Applying for Registered Initiative status:

A program in Mexico, Puerto Rico or on tribal lands, aligned with WECAN's goals and purposes and with children in regular attendance, may apply for Registered Initiative status.

Application Steps:

1. Request a Registered Initiative application by contacting the WECAN Membership Coordinator at membership@waldorfearlychildhood.org.
2. Complete an application form and send it with the $60 application fee to WECAN.

Decisions regarding applications for WECAN Registered Initiative status are made by the WECAN Membership Committee in consultation with the Regional Representative(s). Schools with both early childhood and grade school programs may apply for Registered Initiative status with both WECAN and AWSNA simultaneously by completing an AWSNA Registered Initiative application. In this case, the decisions regarding application is made by the WECAN Membership Committee in consultation with the AWSNA Mexico Working Group.

Criteria for Registered Initiative status are as follows:

- The program has functioned as a program inspired by Waldorf education for at least one year, with a minimum of 6 children in regular attendance.
- The program is committed to the ideals and practices of Waldorf early childhood education and anthroposophy, the philosophy developed by Rudolf Steiner (1861-1925). This commitment is foremost and visible in the program's publicity materials, such as the website and brochures.

They are encouraged to participate in regional WECAN activities, to develop ways to support the training, mentoring and evaluation of their teachers, and to work to improve the health and vitality of the school organism.

Registered Initiatives are also encouraged to begin to look beyond their regions to cultivate relationships with the wider Waldorf early childhood movement in North America and worldwide. They are listed as on the online World Directory of the International Association for Steiner/Waldorf Early Childhood Education (IASWECE), and a portion of their fees supports the international activities.

Fees:

- Associate Registered Initiative fees are $60

Required Change of Status:

Registered Initiatives who do not fulfill their responsibilities or no longer meet the criteria for Registered Initiative status will lose Registered Initiative status. The teachers or caregivers may continue as Individual Members.

Guidelines for the Registered Service Marks WALDORF, WALDORF INSPIRED, RUDOLF STEINER, and STEINER, and the Service Mark PUBLIC WALDORF

Background

Waldorf, Rudolf Steiner, and Steiner are internationally known Marks for anthroposophically inspired education. In the United States the Association of Waldorf Schools of North America (AWSNA) is the owner of the registered marks WALDORF, RUDOLF STEINER, and STEINER, and the responsible party for the service mark PUBLIC WALDORF. In Canada AWSNA is the owner of the WALDORF and RUDOLF STEINER registered marks.

The WALDORF mark was first used in Germany in 1919 with the start of the first Waldorf School. The mark has been used in the United States since 1928. As the work of Rudolf Steiner and WALDORF Education spread, RUDOLF STEINER and STEINER became marks associated with Waldorf Education. The Bund der Freien Waldorfschulen (Bund) is the world-wide owner of the WALDORF, RUDOLF STEINER and STEINER marks outside of the United States. The BUND and AWSNA, as stewards of the marks, work closely together for the protection of the marks and the precise pedagogy and teacher training which the marks have come to symbolize. AWSNA has an agreement with the Alliance for Public Waldorf Education on the Public Waldorf service mark.

Who is allowed to use the registered marks?

Only members of AWSNA, Waldorf Early Childhood Association of North America (WECAN) institutes (that do not intend to have grades teacher training), or stand-alone early childhood programs which are Full Members of WECAN (that do not intend to add grades) are authorized to use the Registered Marks as trademarks, service marks or trade names in accordance with the AWSNA and WECAN Principles for Waldorf Schools and Membership Agreements.

- Only an AWSNA member, a Full Member of WECAN (that does not intend to add grades) or a WECAN member institute (that does not intend to have grades teacher training) may use the Registered Marks in its name such as:
 - The Waldorf School of Mendocino County
 - Rudolf Steiner School of Ann Arbor
 - Waldorf Teacher Education Eugene
 - Boulder Waldorf Kindergarten
- Only an AWSNA member, a Full Member of WECAN (that does not intend to add grades), or a WECAN member institute (that does not intend to have grades teacher training) may describe its program or curriculum as a Waldorf School or Institute or as using a Waldorf curriculum, e.g.:
 - Mountain Starlight is a Waldorf early childhood program
 - Center for Anthroposophy is a Waldorf Teacher Education institute
 - A description of Waldorf Education or website page entitled Waldorf Education

What references can be made to Waldorf, Rudolf Steiner, and Steiner by those who are not AWSNA or Full WECAN members (that do not intend to add grades)?

AWSNA and its members appreciate and encourage the adoption of aspects of the pedagogy of Waldorf Education into other educational models and school and teacher training settings, both public and private. However, schools or teacher training institutes that are not members of either association may not call themselves “Waldorf” schools or institutes or use the Service Marks to describe the education.

- Those who do not fall into a category above or do not have an explicit license may only use the Marks in text to make factual statements about their pedagogical practices. For example, a non-member may say, in text:
 - ABC School’s curriculum is inspired by Waldorf Education.

- ABC School follows many of the teachings of Rudolf Steiner
- 12 of our teachers at ABC School have received training from member institutes of AWSNA
- Those who do not fall into a category above or do not have an explicit license may not use the Marks to describe the school or program, including in ads and directories (unless stated as above, in text). For example, but not limited to:
 - describing part of a program of the school as a Waldorf program
 - in the name of the school
 - as part of a domain name
 - as a tag line to the name of the school, such as “ABC School, a Waldorf Inspired School”.

There are some common phrases that are likely to lead to confusion. For instance, "Waldorf teacher" is ambiguous. The phrase could refer to a teacher who is fully certified from a Waldorf Teacher Education institute. But it could have a variety of other possible meanings, such as a teacher who had merely read some of the writings of Rudolf Steiner or who had taught in a Waldorf school. Because of the different possible meanings of "Waldorf teacher," it is preferable to use "Class teacher" or "Handwork teacher," or other such specific descriptions.

Who can use the service mark Public Waldorf?

The Alliance for Public Waldorf Education can use the service mark PUBLIC WALDORF, and their members may indicate that they are members of the Alliance.

Why is protection of the mark “Waldorf” important?

The purpose of protecting a mark is to ensure clarity of the meaning for the “public”. The intention of stewarding the marks “Waldorf,” “Steiner,” and “Rudolf Steiner” is to keep the meaning clear on behalf of this education.

What is a Waldorf school or a Waldorf Teacher Training Institute?

A school or institute that is a member of our Association. Members engage in self-study and peer review based on the AWSNA Principles for Waldorf Schools and AWSNA Principles for Waldorf Institutes and work in a collaborative manner with their sister schools and institutes.

What is Public Waldorf education?

Public Waldorf education works out the Core Principles of the Alliance for Public Waldorf Education. Member schools of the Alliance for Public Waldorf Education work out of these principles.

What is Waldorf Inspired education?

Waldorf Inspired education is when an educational initiative works with, in some manner, the values or practices often associated with Waldorf education. Waldorf Inspired initiative is on that is not a part of either AWSNA or the Alliance and thus has limited collaboration, and does not engage in a peer review process of the principles of Waldorf education.

Note: These guidelines include examples of misuses, as well as permitted usage, of the terms WALDORF, STEINER, and RUDOLF STEINER. They are not a definitive statement of all possible misuses, and the Association may modify them from time to time as necessary.

If we have questions, whom should we contact?

If there is any question about mark usage please contact Melanie Reiser, AWSNA Executive Director of Membership at mreiser@awsna.org.

WECAN Activity and Collegueship within Regions

WECAN members have many opportunities for leadership and collegueship within our Association and in collaboration with AWSNA here in North America and as members of the International Steiner/Waldorf Early Childhood Association (IASWECE) worldwide.

Regional gatherings and conferences offer important opportunities for colleagues to meet one another, share questions and experiences, and participate in deepening their work. In some regions, colleagues meet very informally in small gatherings; in other regions, these meetings have evolved into large regional conferences.

The WECAN Board has invited experienced Waldorf early childhood educators in each region to act as WECAN Regional Representatives. In most large geographic regions, there are teams of WECAN Regional Representatives. These Representatives, who serve the Waldorf early childhood movement as volunteers, act as speaking partners, supporting each other in meeting the regional responsibilities described below in the manner that best supports the needs of their particular region or sub-region.

The responsibilities of the WECAN Regional Representatives are as follows:

- Welcome new initiatives through offering support and collegueship within the region
- Assist members on their steps on the membership path
- Contact members to explore activities and shared issues of concern
- Facilitate collaboration within the region, including a regional gathering of early childhood colleagues
- Act as a speaking partner to the AWSNA Regional Leadership Council Members as needed
- Attend or help plan AWSNA regional meetings and/or conferences, helping to make sure that early childhood discussions or workshops are included
- Review self-studies and site visit reports, and make recommendations to the WECAN Membership Committee regarding applications for membership
- Help the WECAN Board in developing membership criteria, Shared Principles, and guidelines for site visits, to be included in the WECAN Membership Handbook and as online resources.

A list of Regional Representatives for 2020-21 follows. Please contact them with questions or ideas for regional collaboration.

Collaboration with the Association of Waldorf Schools (AWSNA)

Although not all WECAN Members are affiliated with AWSNA, the AWSNA membership path provides a context for the WECAN procedures described in this WECAN Membership Handbook.

AWSNA recognizes the importance of early childhood work as a basis for healthy school development, and has invited WECAN to take an active role in advising new and developing early childhood initiatives in a collaborative effort to support the growth and development of Waldorf education.

WECAN and AWSNA have established a cooperative process for integrating membership processes for WECAN Full Membership renewal and AWSNA accreditation. For details, please contact the WECAN Membership Coordinator.

For further information on AWSNA and its Membership Handbook, visit www.waldorfeducation.org or contact Melanie Reiser, Executive Director, Membership, mreiser@awsna.org.
